TV weatherman 'spent night in tent with pupils'

A COURT heard how former TV weather presenter Fred Talbot spent the night under canvas with pupils while on school trips.

Talbot (below) admitted there was an occasion where he had slept in a tent while on a camping trip in Scotland – but he said that was perfectly normal at the time.

The 67-year-old is on trial at Lanark Sheriff Court, where he denies indecently assaulting several teenage boys on school trips to Scotland in the 1970s and 1980s.

Talbot said: "We also spent the night in a minibus because we got soaked, because it was so wet.

"I was definitely not attracted to them."

The trial continues.

Boys killed teen in 'senseless knife attack'

FOUR boys, including two aged 14, killed another teenager in an "unprovoked" and "senseless" knife attack, a court heard.

The group allegedly took a minicab from an estate in Hendon to Harrow, west London, then murdered 19-year-old Hussein Ahmed and attacked two 17-year-olds, a trial jury at the Old Bailey heard.

Two 14-year-olds and a 16-year-old, who was 15 at the time, deny murder, wounding with intent, attempted wounding with intent and conspiracy to cause grievous bodily harm.

A fourth alleged attacker, aged 16, fled the country and is wanted by police, the court heard.

'Do you like my boobs?'

ACCUSED: Julie Wadsworth denies all charges against her

By JOSH PAYNE news@sundaysport.co.uk

A BBC radio presenter allowed a teenage boy to fondle her breasts in bushes near a golf course after asking him: "Do you like my boobs?", a court heard.

Julie Wadsworth, 60, is accused of engaging in sexual activity with the then 14-year-old while her husband Tony, 69, touched himself and acted as lookout.

A court heard the alleged victim and his friend were invited to join in the couple's woodland romps in Mancetter Park, near Atherstone, Warks.

Yesterday the witness, who cannot be named for legal reasons, said he "played" with Mrs Wadsworth's boobs and "touched her down below."

Flashed

He said she had flashed her breasts while wearing a mac and knee-high boots before being asked to be taken to a "quieter place".

Mrs Wadsworth – known on radio as Julie Mayer – then allowed him to touch her intimately before she did the same to him as her husband watched on, jurors were told.

The man, now 39, said he could tell the couple had been looking for "a bit of hanky panky" and the experience had since driven him to drink in order to "block it out".

He told the court: "All I can remember is playing with her boobs and touching down below. It was just me and her. I know the others were watching, (my friend) and the man.

'RICHARD AND JUDY OF RADIO': Julie and Tony Wadsworth

"She was wearing nothing under her mac. When I saw her she was sitting down and I was sitting down, too.

"I had never touched a girl before.

"I inserted my fingers in her vagina. She touched my penis.

"I said 'They're all right' to the question 'do you like my boobs?'

"I was asked, 'Do you want to touch them?'

"And she said, 'Do you want to touch there, down below?'

"She said, 'Do you mind getting your willy out?'

"She played with me. He was being a lookout, he came over and said stop.

"(My friend) then took over from me. I didn't ejaculate.

"I became a lookout while (my friend) was in the bushes.

Masturbating

"Mr Wadsworth was just stood there watching and masturbating.

"They had sex lying down when they finished with us.

"I didn't feel anything at the time but then I got a bit depressed. I turned to drink to block it out.

"I have only spoken about it with my wife."

The ex-BBC Radio Leicester presenters have denied five counts of outraging public decency between July 1992 and June 1996.

The pair – dubbed the Richard and Judy of local radio – admitted they had "outdoor hanky panky" in order to "spice up their sex life" but denied doing it in front of anyone.

Mr Wadsworth also pleaded not guilty to 10 charges of indecent assault against seven boys aged under 18 between September 1992 and August 1999.

It was alleged that he watched as his wife, who denies 12 charges of the same offence, sexually touched the youngsters.

The pair, from Broughton Astley, Leics, deny all the charges against them.

The trial continues.

Katy's one of the Idol rich!

SHE GETS £20M TO BE A JUDGE

POP beauty Katy Perry is in for a bumper pay packet as her judging role on American Idol is set to land her £20MILLION.

The 32-year-old's lucrative talent show deal is thought to be one of the largest ever in showbiz.

Katy's huge payday is mainly due to ABC having to publicly announce the series next week, which they can't do unless the judges have been confirmed and signed up.

By BECCA STUBBS
becca@sundaysport.co.uk

A source said: "Katy had all the leverage.

Screwed

"If ABC ended up announcing the show without a judge, they'd be screwed."

Chained to the Rhythm singer Katy is the only confirmed judge so far – although radio host Ryan Seacrest is expected to return to host the show, too.

American Idol had a brief break last year after 15 highly-rated series of the television talent contest.

ABC announced last month that they were reviving the show which will return to the small screen in America in 2018, with Katy as the first celeb confirmed.

But this is not the first time American Idol have splashed the cash on securing top talent.

Singer and actress Jennifer Lopez, 47, signed up to the show in 2013 for a reported fee of £13.5m.

And pop diva Mariah Carey, 48, landed £14m for her judging stint.

TESS: I'D LOVE A DANCE!

STUNNING Strictly host Tess Daly hinted she might swap her presenting duties for a turn on the dance floor for the next series.

The 48-year-old blonde has presented the BBC1 dance show, alongside Bruce Forsyth and more recently Claudia Winkleman, since 2004.

But she has now confessed she would love to try out the routines herself.

Tess said: "It looks like they have a blast – so I would rather enjoy it."

MIDWEEK Sport SAYS

THE Sport's Manchester offices are usually alive with laughter, blue jokes and off-colour jibes.

Yesterday was not like that.

The mood was very serious and very sombre.

Terrorism had come to our city and wiped out scores of young lives at a pop concert.

A pop concert! Youngsters on a night out attacked by a social inadequate with a grudge against the world.

One warped mind decided his twisted, medieval, brain-dead cause could be furthered by blowing innocent children to bits.

It's happened before.

Sadly, it will happen again.

Knowing that does not dull the sense of shock, of horror and of disbelief.

It's not the first time that terrorists have hit Manchester.

Back in 1996, the heart of Manchester was ripped out by a

ONE of the victim's of the Manchester atrocity was Ariana Grande superfan Georgina Callander – who had posed for pictures with the singer she adored at previous performances.

A day before the concert, the 18-year-old tweeted Grande and said: "SO EXCITED TO SEE U TOMORROW."

She was studying at Runshaw College in Leyland, Lancs, and staff there yesterday spoke of their "enormous sadness" after hearing of her death.

A spokesman said the teenager was on the second year of her health and social care course, and was a former student at Bishop Rawstorne Church of England Academy.

"Our deepest sympathies, thoughts and prayers go out to all of Georgina's family, friends, and all of those affected by this loss," the college said.

"We are offering all available support possible at this tragic time, including counselling with our dedicated student support team."

Confirming she had died from her injuries, Bishop Rawstorne Church of England Academy added: "Georgina was a lovely young student who was very popular with her peers and the staff and always made the most of the opportunities she had at the school.

"Our thoughts and prayers go out to Georgina's family at this terrible time, and we think especially of her brothers Harry and Daniel who were also former students of the school.

"All of our students will gather together for a time of prayer and reflection and to give thanks for the life of Georgina."

Yesterday it was confirmed an eight-year-old girl was among the 22 people killed by a suicide bomber after the Ariana Grande concert at the Manchester Arena.

Saffie Roussos, a "beautiful little girl", was killed in the attack which ripped through the venue on Monday evening.

Appalling

In a statement released through Lancashire County Council, Tarleton Community Primary School headteacher Chris Upton said: "News of Saffie's death in this appalling attack has come as a tremendous shock to all of us and I would like to send our deepest condolences to all of her family and friends.

"The thought that anyone could go out to a concert and not come home is heartbreaking.

"Saffie was simply a beautiful little girl in every aspect of the word. She was loved by everyone and her warmth and kindness will be remembered fondly.

"Saffie was a very quiet and unassuming with a creative flair.

"Our focus is now on helping pupils and staff cope with this shocking news and we have called in specialist support from Lancashire County Council to help us do that.

"We are a tight-knit school and wider community and will give each other the support that we need at this difficult time."

The schoolgirl had been at the concert with her mother, Lisa Roussos, and sister, Ashlee Bromwich, in her 20s.

They are both now in separate hospitals being treated for injuries, friends said.

Friends of another victim, 26-year-old John Atkinson from Radcliffe in Bury, Greater Manchester, set up a fund for his

'Controlled blast' after arrest

ARMED police raiding a street in Manchester ordered residents indoors before a controlled explosion rattled the neighbourhood, witnesses said.

Elsmore Road became the centre of the investigation into Monday's outrage as detectives hunted those thought to be behind the blast which left 22 dead.

Greater Manchester Police said a controlled explosion was carried out at the Fallowfield address at around lunchtime on Tuesday.

It came as a 23-year-old man was also arrested by plain clothes police officers in south Manchester over the deadly bombing.

As armed officers carried out the Elsmore Road swoop, equipped with guns and body armour, those who live there described the "sizeable bang" they heard.

Simon Turner, 46, who has lived in the neighbourhood all his life, said he was standing in the street talking to his neighbour at around 12pm when police descended.

He said: "It was so quick. These cars just pulled up and all these police with guns, dogs, jumped out of the car and said to us 'get in the house now'."

He said the police surrounded the property in question, that officers "did something" and "the next thing the door blew off the house".

Mr Turner said "two young lads" live at the house, but he knows very little about them.

He said he had not seen anyone arrested, but added that officers in white forensics suits have been going in and out of the property.

12 kids among injured

TWELVE children under the age of 16 were among the 59 casualties taken to hospital after the terror attack.

David Ratcliffe, medical director of the North West Ambulance Service, said 12 patients were taken by ambulance to the Royal Manchester Children's Hospital.

It is not known how many children were among walking wounded who went to hospitals.

In a statement read outside the Manchester Royal Infirmary, Jon Rouse, Chief Officer of Greater Manchester Health and Social Care Partnership, expressed "deep condolences" to the victims and their families.

He said: "It's been a terrible night and morning in terms of Greater Manchester. Although we have also seen some of the best aspects of Greater Manchester and the people who live there."

The condition of casualties in hospital was not confirmed and no details were given on the types of injuries sustained.

Mr Rouse said: "Clearly there are a number of individuals who have very, very serious injuries and are requiring intensive care and people who are going to be in hospital for a long time in terms of that treatment."

Mr Ratcliffe said: "We sent 60 vehicles to the site, along with highly specialised crews, highly specialised teams."

She might be a mum-of-three but she flaunted her jaw-dropping figure and pert backside in this scorching red swimsuit.

Aladdin in the Mix for Jade!

LITTLE Mix scorcher Jade Thirlwall could bag her first movie role in the live action remake of Aladdin.

The pop babe is hotly tipped as the favourite to play leading lady Princess Jasmine in the upcoming reboot of the popular Disney flick.

Jade, 24, shot to fame when she was put together with Perrie Edwards, Jesy Nelson and Leigh-Anne Pinnock on The X Factor to the form girl group in 2011.

Fingers

But the South Shields scorcher now looks set to add 'actress' to her CV if her bid to play Aladdin's lover is successful.

A source said: "Jasmine is Jade's perfect role, so she's delighted to have got this far in the process.

"She has been involved in talks for a while now, and the longer they go on, the better her chances are looking.

"All of the girls have their fingers crossed for her, but they know that it would be a huge commitment and that she would need considerable time away from the band.

"They have all agreed that they would try to make it work for her around Little Mix commitments."

Jade isn't the only showbiz name being linked to the project, as the Fresh Prince himself Will Smith is rumoured to be taking on the role of the Genie, while King Arthur director Guy Ritchie is the man tasked with bringing the cartoon to life.

The movie is the latest in of the live action remakes, following Beauty and The Beast, Tarzan and The Jungle Book.

SHE has form when it comes to posting saucy snaps on Instagram, but these racy photos could be Nicki Minaj's sexiest yet.

The Anaconda rapper shared three X-rated shots this week showing her reclining in a rope bikini which left little to the imagination.

And in one of the kinky photos, Nicki can be seen pouting at the camera while an assistant gets to grips with the star and rearranges her left knocker.

Not surprisingly the trio of snaps gained almost two million likes after they were posted on Nicki's social media page as her followers couldn't get enough of her eye-watering baps.

Judging by the smoking hot selfies on her Instagram page, it's not hard to see what attracted him to Viviana.

FILM HUNKS FOUGHT TO HAVE SEX WITH ME!

STRIP TEASE: No wonder film star attracted bonk bets

– says Body Heat Kathleen

MOVIE star Kathleen Turner has said top Hollywood actors made bets on who could bed her first after her steamy appearance in the thriller Body Heat.

By HAZEL GROVE news@sundaysport.co.uk

The American actress, 62, was catapulted into the spotlight after landing a lead role in the 1981 erotic thriller.

The steamy role saw her star alongside William Hurt as the character Matty Tyler Walker, the wife of a wealthy businessman who has an affair with Hurt's character.

And Turner says it made her a target for a string of male Hollywood actors who wanted to have sex with her.

She told Radio Times: "Body Heat immediately made me a target for all kinds of men who wanted to prove something by attracting me, by controlling me, I guess.

"All these ridiculous ideas of me being a trophy.

"I've never lived in LA, but when I went out there, I would hear that certain actors had competitions to see who could get me."

But it would appear that none of the unnamed actors struck a winning bet, as Turner insisted that not one of the trophy hunters managed to woo her.

She added: "I thought that was pretty stupid. It just made me feel so objectified that I had no desire to do anything with these people."

Tearful Rebel: Mag stories 'hurt career'

BUSTY actress Rebel Wilson cried as she said a series of magazine articles published in Australia were a deliberate attack on her character and damaged her career.

Wilson is suing Australian publisher Bauer Media for defamation over several articles published in 2015 that she said led to her film contracts being terminated.

The articles said Wilson had lied about her name, age and upbringing in Australia.

Wilson, 37, wiped away tears as she testified in the Supreme Court of Victoria, rejecting the publisher's argument that the stories were light-hearted and had no serious impact on her career.

The actress said the articles were "a deliberate, malicious take-down of me".

TRAGEDY: Sibson and (below) Brittany

A MAN has been accused of killing his girlfriend while he was attempting to commit suicide.

Victor Carl Sibson, 21, has appeared in court facing a murder charge for the killing of his girlfriend Brittany-Mae Haag, 22, in their shared apartment.

Prosecutors say Brittany-Mae was trying to prevent Sibson from suicide when he shot himself and the bullet travelled through his head and hit Haag in the chest.

Hospital testing later found that Sibson was also drunk at the time.

Assistant District Attorney James Fayette said he believes Brittany-Mae was "unintentionally killed", say reports.

Skull

"What we have is a struggle-for-the-gun suicide attempt that resulted in Mr Sibson putting a bullet through his own skull... followed by the extreme indifference killing of a domestic partner," Fayette said.

Both Brittany-Mae and Sibson were taken to the hospital in Anchorage, Alaska, where Haag died from her injuries.

Sibson was treated for life-threatening injuries but was released from the hospital less than a week later. He was indicted by the Anchorage Grand Jury on a count of second-degree murder last week after police put forward potential charges of first and second-degree murder.

Authorities were looking for Sibson until he turned himself in to the Anchorage Police Department on Friday.

In court, a judge entered a not guilty plea on Sibson's behalf.

The 21-year-old told the judge that he is unemployed and could not afford a lawyer.

Sibson was jailed for lack of £250,000 bail.

If convicted, he could face up to 99 years in prison.

HAPPIER DAYS: The couple before the fatal incident

Hillary Step still on Everest

A ROCKY outcrop near the top of Mount Everest known as the "Hillary Step" is intact, disputing a Briton's claim that the feature had collapsed.

British mountaineer Tim Mosedale, who last week reached the summit of the world's highest mountain, said the outcrop had disappeared – probably because of a massive earthquake that shook Nepal in 2015.

The Hillary Step is a sheer 40ft vertical wall that is the last highly difficult section climbers must pass before reaching the summit, named after Sir Edmund Hillary, who made the first successful ascent of Everest with Nepalese Sherpa Tenzing Norgay in 1953.

REALITY CHECK: Chloe on CBB with Jeremy and Cami Li

COVER girl Chloe Goodman showed off her eye-watering assets as she soaked up the sun in a skimpy bikini.

The Celebrity Big Brother babe, 23, flaunted her jaw-dropping curves in this sexy orange two-piece whilst on holiday in Tenerife.

Before making a name for herself on reality telly, Chloe worked as a 'bum double' for a number of showbiz stunnas including Cheryl and Cameron Diaz.

And after seeing these racy beach snaps of the brunette beauty, we're not surprised she managed to earn a living thanks to her peachy rear-end.

Exposing

Chloe shot to fame on the first series of MTV's Ex on the Beach in 2014 before taking part in the Channel 5 reality series the following year.

During her time in the house, the Brighton-born beauty was involved in an incident with Baywatch star Jeremy Jackson when she accused him of exposing her breast.

The American actor was evicted from the house after he drunkenly pulled open Chloe's dressing gown in the bathroom, out of view of the cameras.

She then returned to her roots and did a second stint on the MTV dating show for an 'All Stars' series last summer, but was booted off after just two episodes.

Mum-of-five Kerry keen on having another kid

ATOMIC Kitten star Kerry Katona says she wouldn't rule out having a SIXTH baby.

Kerry, 36, is already a mum to five children but has thought about adding another to her expanding brood.

Former Queen of the Jungle Kerry (above) also revealed she and hubby George Kay, 37, aren't using protection in the bedroom and the couple would welcome another child.

She said: "I would never rule it out. If it happens, it happens. I'm not being careful. I was born to be a mum – yes, I have my issues, but I was born to be a mum."

Although Kerry is interested in falling pregnant again, she also says she's enjoying her body after dropping three stone and wants to keep hold of her size eight frame a little while longer.

Mum-of-five Kerry has two daughters with ex-hubby and Westlife singer Brian McFadden.

She has a son and a daughter from her marriage to Mark Croft and a daughter with George.

The couple married in 2014 but Kerry ended her 13-month marriage in October 2015 before they reconciled a year later.

BOND BUT NOT FORGOTTEN: Sir Roger played 007 an unequalled seven times on the big screen

007 ROGER IS NO MOORE

Bond star dead at 89

By LUCY MAPSTONE

news@sundaysport.co.uk

FORMER James Bond legend Sir Roger Moore has died in Switzerland, aged 89, after a short battle with cancer.

And a message posted on the actor's Twitter page yesterday showed that his family were "devastated".

The statement read: "It is with a heavy heart that we must announce our loving father, Sir Roger Moore, has passed away today in Switzerland after a short but brave battle with cancer.

"The love with which he was surrounded in his final days was so great it cannot be quantified in words alone."

Debonair

Sir Roger was the longest-serving actor to play the womanising MI6 agent, having portrayed 007 in seven films – his first being Live and Let Die in 1973.

The debonair star, who added a distinct light-hearted touch to the role, also admitted that, while he thought Sir Sean Connery had been the greatest Bond, fans were "lucky" to have the current star of the franchise, Daniel Craig.

He said: "I think that Sean was obviously the great Bond.

"He was obviously the right person – he brought the right personality to the performance, otherwise Bond would not have gone on past the first six that he did. He was a tremendous Bond.

"Today, I think we're very lucky to have Daniel Craig because he is quite extraordinary.

"I always say that Sean looked like a killer – but Daniel Craig would finish it off.

"When I saw Casino Royale, I thought Daniel Craig did more action in the first seven minutes than I did in seven films."

While arguably best known for his role as the British spy, Sir Roger will also be remembered for his title role in TV's The Saint in the 1960s.

He once joked of his role as Simon Templar in the spy thriller series: "When I was doing The Saint on television I had two expressions; as Bond I've managed to work up to four."

Sir Roger also once said he could not act "in the Olivier sense", although he described himself as a good technician.

Along with Bond films including Moonraker, A View To A Kill and The Man With The Golden Gun, Sir Roger appeared in movies such as The Cannonball Run, Spice World, The Boat That Rocked and The Man Who Wouldn't Die.

Off screen, Sir Roger was respected for his charity work, and in 1999 he was made a Commander of the Order of the British Empire (CBE), and a Knight Commander of the Order of the British Empire (KBE) in 2003.

Man denies OAP murder

A MAN has denied murdering an 80-year-old woman whose body was found in a garage at an allotment.

Rahim Mohammadi, 40, of east London, appeared at the Old Bailey via video link from Belmarsh jail over the death of Lea Adri-Soejoko (above).

The pensioner's body was discovered in Colindale, north-west London, in a lock-up store at the allotment where she was secretary.

She had been strangled with a ligature.

During a hearing, Mohammadi pleaded not guilty to murdering the OAP on February 27.

He was remanded in custody ahead of his trial at the Old Bailey in July.

NICE BOOBS, SHAME ABOUT THE NAME: Tuppence strips

Shock for Tuppence

ACTRESS Tuppence Middleton had no idea her first name also meant 'FANNY' – until a lad at school blurted it out!

The 30-year-old British stunna wasn't aware that the moniker 'Tuppence' is a euphemism for a lady's front bottom until a Northern bloke told her all about her saucy name.

When asked if she knew about her name's other meaning, Tuppence replied: "Er, I became aware of that when I went to drama school.

"A guy from up north told me.

"When I informed my mum, she said, 'Oh, sorry, darling, I had no idea!'

Seductive

"Tuppence is what my grandma called my mother as a little girl.

"My parents decided to call me it, too. I haven't met another one – people remember it."

Tuppence's last regal role was as the seductive temptress Princess Helene Kuragin in BBC drama War and Peace.

By BECCA STUBBS

becca@sundaysport.co.uk

She's set to appear in another upcoming BBC drama about the Royals titled Diana And I, which will focus on the impact Princess Diana's death had on people's lives.

Although she went topless for steamy scenes in War and Peace, Tuppence also displayed her impressive bust for her role in 2013 crime movie Trap for Cinderella.

REGRETS, I'VE HAD A PHEW!

I BOOBED: Miley says she regrets naked snaps

By JESS GALLEY
jess@sundaysport.co.uk

REFORMED wild child Miley Cyrus claimed that stripping NAKED for her Wrecking Ball music video was her biggest regret last week.

We broke the news in Weekend Sport after Miley said: "I'm never living that down. I will always be the naked girl on a wrecking ball."

But as she unveils her tame new image, we've found some of Miley's even more outrageous snaps showing her bare tits, fanny and unshaven pits.

Twerking

The Malibu singer, 24, has turned over a new leaf after reconciling with fiancé Liam Hemsworth at the start of last year and now gone are the days of her stripping off and twerking on stage.

But before Liam, 27, came back on the scene and ruined everyone's fun, Billy Ray's daughter was notorious for getting her kit off and flashing the flesh.

She ditched her clothes and posed completely nude in a racy shoot for Candy magazine, with photographer Terry Richardson.

Terry also had the former Hannah Montana actress pose wearing kinky PVC and bondage-style gear, as well as sucking on a policeman's truncheon.

Miley also bared all in a number of candid mobile phone snaps, including one of her starkers with soap suds strategically protecting her modesty, and she's also been known to take dildos on stage with her.

RACE ACE DARIO IS ROBBED AT GUNPOINT

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

TARGET: Dario Franchitti

BRITISH racing driver Dario Franchitti has been robbed at gunpoint at a drive-through restaurant.

Franchitti, who retired in 2013 after winning the Indianapolis 500 race three times, was targeted alongside his long-time teammate Scott Dixon at a Taco Bell eaterie near the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in Indiana.

Hours earlier, Dixon had won pole position for next Sunday's Indy 500 race – the most famous event in the Verizon IndyCar US motor racing series.

The police report said two males ran away after the robbery and that Dixon's wife was also in the vehicle.

Teenagers

Officers later arrested two teenagers – a pair of boys aged 14 and 15.

Dixon, who is from New Zealand, is the 2008 Indy 500 winner and a long-time Chip Ganassi Racing mate of Scotsman Franchitti.

The two drivers were said to be "completely fine" after the incident.

IndyCar driver Tony Kanaan told reporters that Dixon was making a food run for a group of drivers.

He said: "While they were ordering with their windows down two guys approached at gunpoint.

"They held a gun at Dixon's head and asked him for his wallet and his phone.

"You don't expect that to happen here."

Frozen planet was 'habitable'

A FROZEN planet in a nearby solar system may have been warm and habitable for hundreds of millions of years, scientists believe.

Astronomers made the discovery after studying the orbits of seven planets circling Trappist-1, a cool dwarf star 40 light years away in the constellation Aquarius.

The outermost planet, Trappist-1h, is currently an ice ball with an average surface temperature of -100C.

But it spent several hundred million years in a much warmer state when its host star was younger and brighter, say researchers from the University of Washington in the US.

Charlotte's hit by kinky foot fanatics

REALITY star Charlotte Crosby gets harassed by kinky fans wanting to see her dainty feet.

Charlotte (above), 27, is being pestered by fans with a foot fetish wanting to know whether her tootsies are ticklish.

The former Geordie Shore stunna, who is currently dating fellow reality star Stephen Bear, 27, says she often gets weird requests from her online followers.

She said: "I'm always getting asked how ticklish my feet are on a scale of one to 10. There are some fans with serious foot fetishes."

Charlotte is a regular face on the small screens and is currently presenting Just Tattoo Of Us.

The Big Brother winner met her current beauon the set of the MTV hit as the pair found love during their co-presenting jobs.

It seems as though their relationship will continue for a while longer too, as series two of Just Tattoo Of Us will air in the summer.

Barca boss is held in probe

FORMER Barcelona president Sandro Rosell and his wife have been detained in an investigation into his Brazil businesses.

They are part of a money-laundering probe related to TV rights for past matches of Brazil's national team.

Three others have been held, but their identities were not immediately released.

Police raided offices, homes and businesses in Barcelona and other locations in Spain as part of Operation Rimet, in reference to former Fifa boss Jules Rimet.

The operation used information from the FBI following the US case against high-level Fifa officials in 2015.

Rosell is already standing trial for fraud and corruption charges involving the 2013 transfer of Brazilian striker Neymar.

DAVID WALLIAMS' SHOCK BGT JUDGE CALL

SACK AMANDA AND GIVE ME RITA!

STARS: David (left) and Amanda (right)

BRITAIN'S Got Talent judge David Walliams has sensationally revealed he wants to REPLACE one of his co-stars.

The Little Britain funnyman, 45, said that there is a sexy pop star he would much rather sit next to during filming for the ITV talent show.

And David would said he would happily see current judges Amanda Holden and Alesha Dixon be given the boot to make his dream come true.

The object of David's affections is 26-year-old Hot Right Now singer Rita Ora – who is no stranger to TV talent shows after a one-year stint on The X Factor and a role on BBC's The Voice.

By JESS GALLEY
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Swap

David said: "Can I swap one of them – or both of them?

"I like Rita Ora a lot and I would like her to be sat next to me.

"And maybe Sharon Osborne."

David's had a seat on the judging panel since 2012, alongside Simon Cowell, 57, Alesha, 38, and Amanda, 46.

But his wish doesn't seem likely to come true after it was revealed last week that Rita (right) has bagged a role on a brand new telly show across the Atlantic.

The busty blonde will join former Spice Girl Emma Bunton and ex-Backstreet Boys star Nick Carter to host ABC series Boy Band.

The show, which will air next month, is geared towards finding the next big boy band to rival the likes of One Direction.

Cops arrest pals enjoying threesome on bar balcony

A RANDY bloke and two lady friends were arrested after being caught having a threesome on the balcony of a trendy bar.

The sex-mad trio stripped fully naked and one woman started riding the man reverse cowboy style while she licked out her pal.

But their sex fun was cut short when someone called the cops to Tripple D's in Florida.

Sheriff Ricky Adam, who was first on the scene, said: "They were doing it right there. In the middle of the day. In broad daylight. In front of God and everybody.

"The bar was closed at the time and the owner drove up to take care of some business.

"She looked out the window and there they were. That's when she called us.

"I can't imagine the stunned looks on their faces when they saw our deputies.

"I'd hate to have to tell Mama and Daddy I got arrested for such as that."

A 26-year-old Biloxi woman, a 19-year-old woman from Pearl River, Louisiana, and a 30-year-old Texas man were arrested and charged with indecent exposure.

THE Breast nipple pasties EVER!

LEGENDARY pop singer Cher flashed the flesh and showcased her nipple pasties at a glitzy awards bash this week.

She wore a risqué silver string dress which left little to the imagination and sent Twitter into near MELTDOWN when she exposed her heart-shaped nipple covers.

Cher won the Icon award at the Billboard Music Awards on Sunday night and celebrated with a revealing performance just one day after turning 71.

However, she's not the only celebrity to have tried the nipple cover trend, with plenty stepping out wearing nothing else.

Former glamour girl Jodie Marsh, 38, wore sequins over her assets back in 2008.

And more recently wannabe reality star Lisa Appleton, 48, donned butterfly ones, which just about did the job.

Reality stars Holly Hagan, 24, and Chanelle Hayes, 29, went for a more dominatrix look with black crosses placed their modesty.

Meanwhile pop star Taylor Momsen, 23, and actress Christina Milian, 35, also opted for the duct-tape style covers.

And 20-year-old model Bella Hadid managed to tape over her pert pair with the strong sticky tape.

Burlesque dancer Dita Von Teese, 44, stripped off to reveal her racy red covers at a glamorous party back in 2005.

Here's the breast of the beauties who've teased us with their pasties…

Snyder drops Justice after girl's suicide

DIRECTOR Zack Snyder has stepped down from working on Justice League to support his family following the suicide of his daughter.

Snyder (above), 51, who helmed comic book adaptations including Watchmen, 300, Man Of Steel and Batman v Superman: Dawn Of Justice, spoke about the tragedy for the first time.

He explained that Avengers director Joss Whedon would finish the film.

The director's daughter Autumn killed herself in March at the age of 20.

He said: "In my mind, I thought it was a cathartic thing to go back to work, to just bury myself and see if that was the way through it.

"In the last two months, I've decided to take a step back from the movie to be with my family. They are all having a hard time."

Snyder continued: "I want the movie to be amazing, and I'm a fan, but that all pales pretty quickly in comparison.

"In the end, it's just a movie."

TOP 10 ROGER MOORE MOVIES OF ALL TIME

ACTING legend Sir Roger Moore has sadly passed away aged 89. He rose to fame in the TV series The Saint but really became a worldwide star when he bagged the role of superspy James Bond. Here are his top 10 movies according to website IMDB...

1 THE SPY WHO LOVED ME (1977) 7.1 – MOORE'S third film saw him taking on a hijacker targeting British and Russian nuclear submarines. Sees the first appearance of favourite baddie Jaws.

2 LIVE AND LET DIE (1973) 6.8 – BRITISH secret service agents are being murdered and in Moore's first stab at Bond he is tasked with finding out what's going on. He heads to New Orleans where he meets voodoo priest Baron Samedi.

3 THE MAN WITH THE GOLDEN GUN (1974) 6.8 – FEATURING the stunning Britt Ekland and the evil Christopher Lee as the world's most expensive assassin Francisco Scaramanga. Also features an amazing car chase with the wonderful Clifton James as comically bad cop Sheriff J.W. Pepper.

4 FOR YOUR EYES ONLY (1982) 6.8 – 007 is sent to hunt for a lost encryption device from a sunken British boat that could spell disaster if it ends up in the wrong hands. Features a famous ski chase sequence.

5 THE WILD GEESE (1978) 6.8 – THE first non-Bond film on the list sees Moore as a mercenary hired to rescue a deposed African president from the hands of a corrupt African dictator. He's joined by Richard Burton and Richard Harris.

6 OCTOPUSSY (1983) 6.6 – A COMPLEX plot featuring a fake Fabergé egg and a fellow agent's death that leads Bond to uncover an international jewel-smuggling operation, headed by the mysterious Octopussy, being used to disguise a nuclear attack on N.A.T.O. forces.

7 THE CARER (2016) 6.6 – MOORE plays himself in this quirky Brit flick about a Hungarian actress desperate to make it on the Britsih stage. Not a big role but he steals all his scenes.

8 THE MAN WHO HAUNTED HIMSELF (1970) 6.4 – ROGER stars as Harold Pelham who wakes up following a car crash to discover he's now got an evil doppelganger who is the complete opposite to him. Wonderful character work by Moore.

9 A VIEW TO A KILL (1985) 6.3 – AN investigation into a horse-racing scam leads 007 to a mad industrialist who plans to create a worldwide microchip monopoly by destroying California's Silicon Valley, with Grace Jones and Christopher Walken.

10 MOONRAKER (1979) 6.3 – SPACE rockets are disappearing and war is brewing as a result. Bond must save the day from baddie Hugo Drax. Also features Lois Childs as the wonderfully named Holly Goodhead.

Caitlyn agrees to Carr share

CHATTY man host Alan Carr revealed he invited Caitlyn Jenner back to his dressing room.

The 40-year-old comic met the transgender reality star (below) when he was seated next to her at The British LGBT Awards earlier this year.

And Alan confessed he invited Caitlyn, 67, backstage to have a drink with him after the Keeping Up with the Kardashians star received abuse from fellow guests.

He said: "She was really sweet and very down to earth – but I don't think she knew who I was!

"I said to her, 'Come to my dressing room', because she was getting bothered.

"We had a Diet Coke and the rest is history!

"I felt bad because I was hosting. It's like hosting a party that goes tits up!"

Rolf 'hugged kids like a brother'

ON TRAIL: Rolf Harris denies four charges of indecent assault

VETERAN entertainer Rolf Harris embraced children and fans in a "fraternal or brotherly" way, his former tour manager said.

By JEMMA CREW

news@sundaysport.co.uk

Kenneth Jeacle, tour manager for Mr Harris between the mid-1980s and mid-90s, was asked by prosecutor Jonathan Rees if he had ever seen Harris pull a young girl or boy onto his lap at an autograph session.

Speaking via video-link from Australia, he told Southwark Crown Court: "Sure I have, but not as you describe it.

"I have witnessed Mr Harris conversing with children at the instigation of the minder at the time, parent or guardian, whatever.

"They would at times be encouraged by their parents to perhaps sit on his knee or perhaps give him a kiss on the cheek, or the parent would ask would he kiss the child, which he would always comply.

"But there were never, shall I say, incidents in my presence that Mr Harris would be the instigator of touching a child and or adult and draw him towards him.

"Mr Harris's attitude in these incidents was always that people would approach him.

Fraternal

"He would then perhaps open his arms and embrace them but in, shall I say, a fraternal or brotherly style or manner."

Asked by Stephen Vullo QC, defending, if he had ever seen Harris act inappropriately with his fans, he replied: "Categorically, never.

"Mr Harris was in my presence constantly respectful of children and parents alike."

Mr Vullo told the jury yesterday that the entertainer, 87, will not give evidence as part of his defence case.

He denies four charges of indecent assault against three women between 1971 and 1983.

The Australia-born former television star sat in the dock with a hearing aid for the second time since he was freed from HMP Stafford last week.

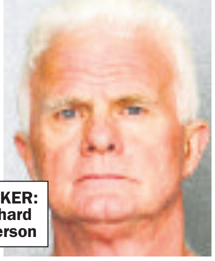
BIG COCK BLOWJOB KILLER IS CLEARED



CHOKER: Richard Paterson

A MAN charged with murder after his girlfriend choked to death while giving him a blowjob has been found not guilty.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Richard Paterson told cops that his lover Francisca Marquinez, 64, died while sucking him off because he has an unnaturally large penis that had blocked her airways.

But they refused to believe him and he was charged with second degree murder.

A court in Florida heard evidence from a doctor who confirmed that it is possible for a person to die while giving head.

Paterson, 62, even offered to show the jury his knob to prove its size.

But the offer was not needed as he legal team proved there wasn't enough evidence to prove a crime was committed.

Kenneth Padowitz, defending, said: "This was a terrible tragedy that happened to this lady that my client was very much in love with.

"Mr. Patterson is just very happy that justice has been done and that he can go home with his grandchildren."

Tranny bus driver's ball grab shocker

A SEX-CHANGE bus driver was sacked from her job after grabbing a colleague's BALLS.

Transgender Louise Croft, 60, did the dirty deed while making "an inappropriate comment".

A court heard Croft (above) had worked as a bus driver for Arriva for three years – but lost her job after the attack.

The victim told the court he was "shocked and horrified" by the grab.

He said: "She came into the room towards me and, as she neared, went for my private parts.

"I didn't expect it and I wouldn't dream of doing anything like it. It has caused me much anguish."

Croft, from Rowen, near Conwy, North Wales, denied sexual assault but was found guilty by Caernarfon magistrates.

She was ordered to carry out 100 hours of community service and pay £735 in costs.

Magistrates heard Croft began her gender transition in 2006.

Linsey Dawn McKenzie

SHE'S BRITAIN'S ONLY TOPLESS COLUMNIST

RUMOURS came out this week that Anthony Joshua is getting close to supermodel Bella Hadid after they met at a GQ bash last year.

AJ has built his image around being down-to-earth, whereas Bella is Hollywood born and bred.

He still lives in a little flat with his mum, while Bella was brought up in a huge LA mansion.

You can't have a successful relationship with someone if you have nothing in common.

BRITNEY Spears is set to walk down the aisle for a third time and marry toy boy Sam Asghari this summer.

People have been quick to knock her because of their 13-year age gap, but I say good luck to her!

I've seen photos of him and I certainly wouldn't kick him out of bed!

I'm 40 next year and I think I will definitely be on the lookout for some toy boy action myself and I think it's great older women are hooking up with younger guys.

I can't imagine anything more terrifying

I WOKE up on Tuesday morning to news that a suicide bomber had attacked Ariana Grande's concert at Manchester Arena on Monday night.

The photos and reports coming out of the city were heart-breaking.

Panicked parents tried to find their children, who had been at the gig and hadn't been heard from since.

As a parent myself I can't imagine anything more terrifying than not being able to find your child and not knowing whether they are safe or not.

My thoughts and prayers are with all of those affected, especially the families whose lives have been changed forever after something as normal as going to a concert.

What I find most upsetting though is that this attack seems to have clearly been aimed at young people – US pop star Ariana Grande's fans are primarily young kids and teenagers.

Sickening

How anyone could want to hurt innocent kids is beyond me – it is sickening.

And it makes my blood boil that the person responsible will never be brought to justice for taking so many lives in such an horrific way, after taking their own life in the attack.

WITH summer just around the corner I have transformed my garden into a relaxing haven, with new garden furniture and some finishing touches to make it feel like a luxury Spanish villa!

And I invited my friends over for a bit of a girls' night at the weekend, when we all stripped off and climbed into the hot tub!

PIP, PIP HOORAY!

PIPPA Middleton looked stunning in her wedding dress when she tied the knot with James Matthews at the weekend.

I absolutely loved her dress and thought she looked gorgeous.

The neckline was so classy and demure and I actually think she blew her sister Kate out of the water!

To be honest, I know Kate is a real-life Princess but I would much rather be Pippa anyway! She gets all the riches without having to follow such strict rules – so it's the best of both worlds for her.

I wish they would stop hiding Meghan Markle away though – I know that she was trying not to upstage Pippa but it wouldn't have ruined the whole day for us to see just one photo of her all dolled-up.

I am dying to know what she wore for Pippa's big day. Come on Harry, show us your girl!

TEACHER'S FOUR SEX ROMPS IN A MONTH WITH TEEN BOY

She 'sent him XXX pics of herself'

CHARGED: Volleyball coach Tiana Sanchez (above) is no longer employed at Silver High School (below)

news@sundaysport.co.uk

A SPORTS teacher has been accused of having sex with a pupil and sending him X-rated photos and texts.

The arrest of Tiana Sanchez, 31, came a week after the victim's mum contacted authorities saying she was concerned about a possible inappropriate relationship between the teacher and her teenage son.

She also handed police her son's mobile phone, suspecting that it contained messages and images of a sexual nature.

When interviewed by cops, the lad allegedly admitted that he had sex with Sanchez four times within the past month.

He also confirmed that the pair had exchanged text messages and sexually explicit photos, some of which were stored on the boy's phone, police stated.

Penetration

The volleyball teacher at Silver High School, New Mexico, was taken into custody on four counts of criminal sexual penetration of a minor.

In a photo released by the state police, Sanchez appears to have a black eye, although it is unclear how she got the bruise.

She is no longer employed at the school.

Mace in face fries row woman seized

A WOMAN 'maced' workers at a Wendy's drive through over the freshness of her french fries.

Eiram Chanel Amir Dixson, 25, ordered food and asked for fresh fries at the fast food branch in Coon Rapids, Minnesota.

Employees say Dixson began arguing, then took the Mace spray from her car and allegedly sprayed at three employees, including the manager who was hit full in the face.

The manager felt a burning in his eyes and found it difficult to breathe.

Another employee had to rinse the spray out of his eyes as his throat burned and he struggled to breathe.

Dixson (left) has been charged with using tear gas to immobilise. She faces up to five years in jail if she's found guilty.

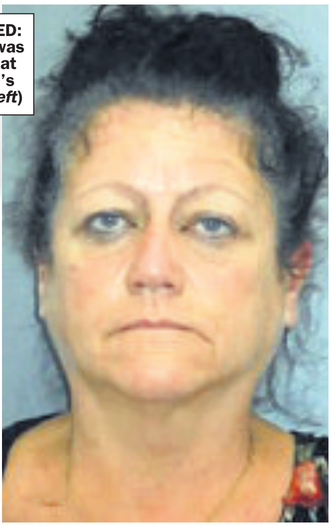
CANNIBAL CARER BIT WOMAN TO DEATH… THEN ATE HER NIPPLE AND CHIN

Arrested with blood on mouth



CHARGED: Collins was nicked at woman's home (left)

news@sundaysport.co.uk

A DRUNK carer was arrested with blood around her mouth after the body of an elderly mother she was looking after was found covered in bite marks.

Jennifer Lea Collins, 55, is said to have bitten her victim's chin and nipple off before the old woman's son discovered them both on the floor of his home.

Police swooped to nick the suspect, who is said to have told police in an interview she had beaten up the woman.

The victim survived the initial ordeal on May 11 but died a week later in hospital from her injuries.

Having been initially arrested on suspicion of aggravated assault and abuse of an impaired person, cops are considering bringing murder charges against Collins.

Breast

Police records of the incident state the elderly woman had "part of her chin bitten off".

The report continued: "She had also been bitten on the face, hand, arm, leg, and the nipple of the victim's left breast had been bitten off."

A court document revealed that the suspect had blood on her mouth and that there were no signs of forced entry to the home in Cherokee Village, Arkansas.

Collins was meant to be the woman's carer. When police questioned her they noticed that she smelled of alcohol and had blood on her mouth

An autopsy is being carried out on the victim's body as part of the ongoing investigation.

Katie's in clear over N-word

TV watchdog Ofcom has announced it will not investigate This Morning after Katie Price used the N-word.

The star (above), 39, triggered a backlash on social media when she used the word last month to raise awareness of the sort of abuse her disabled son faces as she talked about online bullies.

Ofcom said that the word was sufficiently contextualised as it was used to describe the racial abuse directed at teenager Harvey.

A spokesperson said: "We considered a handful of complaints about potentially offensive language in this mid-morning magazine programme.

"We found it was used in a descriptive manner to illustrate the nature of online abuse and presenters issued an apology immediately after the broadcast."

The regulator also announced it has assessed, but decided not to investigate, Bethany Platt's online grooming storyline in Coronation Street.

C4 fks up over Ramsay

GORDON Ramsay's show Ramsay's Hotel Hell has sparked an Ofcom probe after the expletive-laden show was broadcast in the morning.

Viewers complained after hearing six uses of "fk" uttered by the chef (above), known for his foul language.

An Ofcom spokesman said: "We're investigating the use of the most offensive language before the watershed."

Channel 4 had said that it broadcast the evening episode, instead of the daytime repeat version of the show, in April, in error.

A source said: "It was quickly removed."

Eva WYRNAL

By JESS GALLEY jess@sundaysport.co.uk

WHEN sizzling Eva Wyrnal gets down to business she’s in it for the long-haul.

As the glamour girl confessed she can romp for HOURS at a time.

The 27-year-old, from Rugby, Warwics, told us her personal best is a five-hour bonk-a-thon with her lucky fella.

But Eva, who boasts an eye-watering pair of 34DDs, said she isn’t always after a marathon shagging session.

Quickie

The blonde beauty said it depends entirely on her mood and sometimes a quickie will do just the same.

She said: “A lot depends on my mood.

“Sometimes I like it fast, other times long and slow – like five hours long!

“If anyone thinks they can have sex for longer, let’s see it.

“I think my personal record will be pretty hard to beat!”

Amy Llewelyn says...

'ORGASMS are the best feeling in the world, but I only cum when my fella is paying attention to my clit – that'll have me screaming in seconds'

Caring guys hold key to 1 in 10 stressed girls achieving Big-O

By BECCA STUBBS

becca@sundaysport.co.uk

SATISFYING a woman can be a tricky task... but here's some advice on how to help your girl achieve the Big-O.

Men often find it pretty easy to climax, but making a woman orgasm is no mean feat with plenty of females having never experienced the feeling.

Shockingly, 10 per cent of girls have NEVER had an orgasm, with more than 80% saying they can't cum through shagging alone.

However, the encouraging news is that men can help revolutionise the female orgasm by knowing exactly how to pleasure them and knowing what stimulation gets them off.

Sex and relationship expert Alix Fox said: "Climaxing often requires paying attention to the body and the brain."

Listening to a woman telling you exactly what she wants can help, and doing it for long enough while she's relaxed and turned-on is a sure-fire way to get her shaking with pleasure.

There are a number of physical and psychological issues which stop women from reaching a climax, but blokes can help ease them.

Helping your other half de-stress and making her feel relaxed will immediately up your chances of making her cum.

And paying attention to her satisfaction and needs also boosts your chances, as does putting her orgasm before your own.

Tools

Alix added: "Reasons include stress, not yet having found the right techniques, tools and sexual scenarios that suit them, or not feeling able to ask for and accept these from a lover.

"Concentrating more on performing for and pleasing their partner than their own sexual satisfaction.

"Or feeling pressured and anxious that orgasms aren't happening – which ironically makes climaxes more likely to stay shy and be a no-show."

Despite 10% of women having never had an orgasm, the good news is that it's not impossible.

Making her comfortable in the right circumstances and having a little faith in yourself can all contribute to her cumming.

Sexpert Alix added: "The good news is that once a woman has discovered the combination of factors that make her feel amazing, and feels able to communicate to her lover what gets her off, it gets easier to achieve big-Os when getting it on."

"The first step to letting a climax happen is to open your mind to it being a possibility. Believe it, and you're more likely to achieve it."

We asked three Sport stunnas about achieving their big-O's...

Alice Bennett says...

'THERE'S a popular saying... men come first, women second.

If men put as much thought into pleasuring their girl as they do themselves, these stats wouldn't exist!'

Lisa Walker says...

'I THINK it's pretty easy to make me cum, I get easily turned on and one flick of my clit can have me orgasming.

And I can have multiple orgasms in one night.

If only all girls were like me, eh!'

Running helps couples to get joggy with it!

By JESS GALLEY

jess@sundaysport.co.uk

RUNNING isn't just good for your health, it also boosts your abilities in the sack.

New research has found that going for regular jogs can increase your libido and leave you gagging for a steamy shagging session with your other half.

The study was carried out by boffins in Los Angeles who looked at ways to heighten people's sex drives, which can be lacking due to issues such as stress, tiredness or any underlying medical problems.

And they found that going for a run every day can significantly boost your desire to get jiggy.

Almost half (42%) of respondents confessed to feeling horny after they got sweaty on a run – with the majority of those saying it made them feel more confident about themselves.

Fantasies

Orgasm expert Dr Nicole Prause said: "Generally speaking, if your heart rate is increased and you see your partner, you're more likely to interpret your excitement as due to your partner.

"Even if it's not.

"Also, starting to be sexual and talking about fantasies. That may help get things started.

"You start hugging, you kiss, and you start to have those urges."

We asked Sport scorcher Cindy Dollar whether she's ever felt the urge to rush to the bedroom for a bonk after a hot and steamy workout.

The 33-year-old, from Enfield, told us she doesn't need to go running to get her juices flowing, though.

She revealed: "I'm a very sexual person so I don't really need any help when it comes to boosting my libido – if anything, I probably need help calming it down!

"But if you're struggling to find the urge, then it's good to know that something as simple as going for a run or getting sweaty at the gym can help boost your sex drive.

"It makes sense that raising your heart rate and getting hot and sweaty – just like you do during sex – would create a similar effect.

"After reading this, I will definitely be persuading any fellas in future to keep fit and go for regular runs – so we can enjoy a nice active relationship together!"

MY SEX FANTASY ...WITH DELIA ROSE

'Me and my mates don't fight over men – we share them!'

By BECCA STUBBS

becca@sundaysport.co.uk

GORGEOUS Delia Rose says she loves to SHARE fellas with her sexy girlfriends!

The busty beauty – who wows men and women with her 32Es – revealed if she and a pal fancy a fella in a bar they take him home TOGETHER.

Delia, from Cambridge, said she loves getting it on with another girl – and often enjoys a sizzling threesome when her and a sexy female pal pull a lucky bloke.

Satisfied

The 25-year-old said: "I've had threeway sessions with another girl and a very lucky guy.

"Me and my friend were on a night out recently and we really fancied this bloke.

"We couldn't decide who should take him home…so we BOTH did!

"It was a truly mind-blowing experience, and let's just say he was fully satisfied at the end of the night.

"Me and my girlfriends don't bother fighting over men – we just share them around!

"I absolutely love girls, but I do prefer guys at the end of the day.

"I've done basically everything. I once had full sex with one of my close friends and it was awesome!

"But I don't consider myself a full-blown lesbian – sorry, ladies!

"I think of girl-on-girl action as a bit of fun. It's nothing serious.

"When I'm with a guy, it always feels like a much more sexual thing for me."

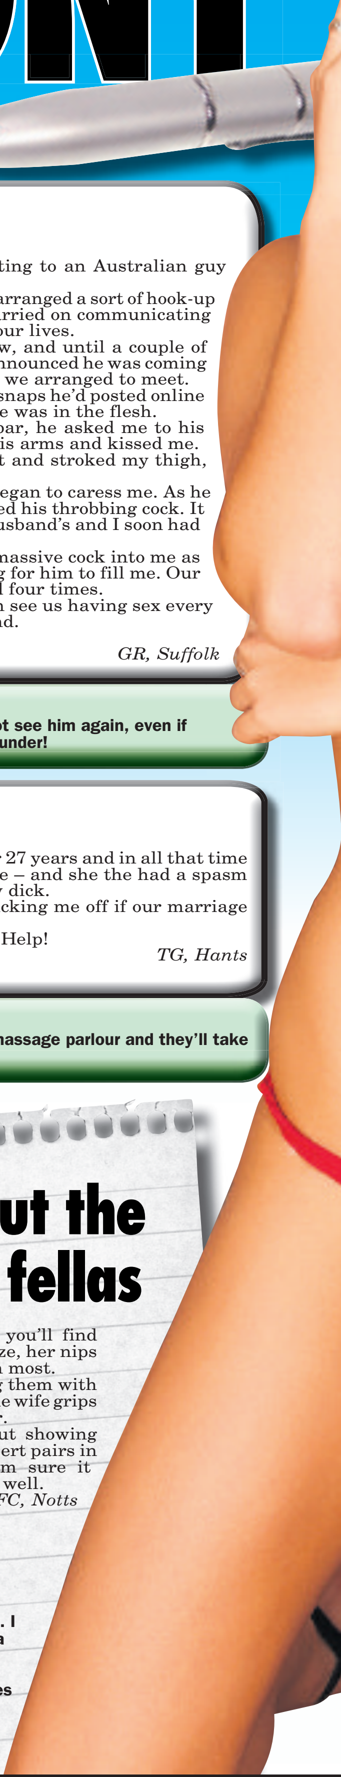
THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page



Dear Bexi,

I'M a married woman and I've been writing to an Australian guy since I was 15.

We started with e-mails after my school arranged a sort of hook-up with a school Down Under and we just carried on communicating with each other, swapping stories about our lives.

It's been going on a good few years now, and until a couple of months ago we'd never met. But then he announced he was coming over to the UK for a working holiday and we arranged to meet.

I knew that he was a bit of a hunk from snaps he'd posted online but I wasn't prepared for how gorgeous he was in the flesh.

After a few drinks in a London hotel bar, he asked me to his room. When we got there he took me in his arms and kissed me.

And when he slid his hand up my skirt and stroked my thigh, at which point I almost fainted.

My heart was pounding as his fingers began to caress me. As he did so, I unzipped his trousers and released his throbbing cock. It was at least four inches bigger than my husband's and I soon had its glistening tip between my lips.

He removed my panties and eased his massive cock into me as I wrapped my legs around him, hungering for him to fill me. Our sex session lasted an hour and I climaxed four times.

He is over here for six months and I can see us having sex every time we meet – but I still love my husband.

What should I do?

GR, Suffolk

Bexi says…

STOP now. You'd best not see him again, even if he does fill you up down under!

Dear Bexi,

ME and the missus have been together for 27 years and in all that time she's only had my knob in her mouth once – and she the had a spasm and clamped her jaw, almost severing my dick.

She said there was no chance of her sucking me off if our marriage was to continue.

But I've still never ever had a blowjob. Help!

TG, Hants

Bexi says…

GET yourself down to a massage parlour and they'll take care of it for you.

Tit's not all about the size of breasts, fellas

Dear Bexi,

I'M sick of this song and dance about women with big boobs.

I know they appeal to most blokes but there are people out there who like small breasts – and I'm one of them.

My missus is a 32A and I love her pert pair. They are ideal for sucking and I can get a whole one in my mouth easily.

Admittedly, tit-wanks are not something we get round to much – they're more tit-and-dick rubs, to be honest

But I love it when we have sex doggystyle and I can reach down to feel her beautiful little sprouts while I'm pumping her hard from behind.

And I think you'll find that, size for size, her nips are bigger than most.

I love teasing them with my tongue as the wife grips my hard todger.

So, how about showing us some more pert pairs in your paper? I'm sure it would go down well.

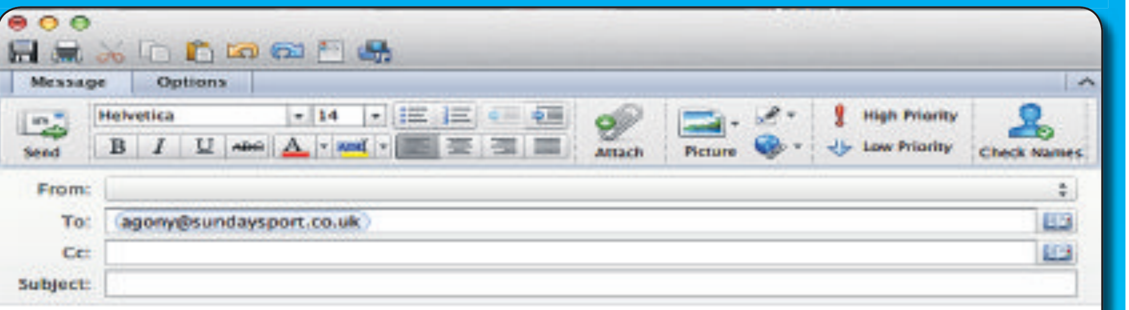
FC, Notts

Bexi says…

EACH to his own. I think you'll find a fair selection of sizes if you flick through the pages of Midweek Sport, Weekend Sport and Sunday Sport!

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week BEXI WILLIAMS has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you…



I'm hurt wife wants to whip up a sexual storm

Dear Bexi,

I'VE been wed for 18 years and me and the wife have always had a rich sex life.

But recently she's got me very worried with all her strange new demands in the sack.

She's always been a bit of a randy mare and more than willing to try new sexual things in – and out – of the bedroom.

And I must say that over the years we've had some fantastic sex sessions, which is more than can be said for some of my mates and their partners, if what they tell me is true.

Shagged

We once spent two days and nights in bed on a weekend away in Blackpool and we lost count of the number of times we shagged on our mini-break.

We did it every which way you can imagine, believe me. We must have exhausted the kama sutra.

After having straight sex in the missionary position, her on top and doggy-style, we had a sizzling session with a whole load of new exotic toys we'd bought in a naughty sex shop along the front.

She was well up for it as I used dildo after dildo in increasing sizes on her – and she even used them on me.

We even had anal sex for the first time, which was something of an eye-opener for both of us.

We'd often talked about it but had never prepared for it properly by buying lube and smearing it everywhere.

At one point we adjourned for some sexy fun to the bathroom, which was shared between four rooms on our floor – it was a traditional, unmodernised bed & breakfast place, real old school.

We almost got thrown out of the place when other guests complained because we were in there banging away for almost an hour-and-a-half.

Anyway, that was then and I've calmed down a lot now.

But she still behaves like a sex-mad nympho and now she wants me to get into that Fifty Shades S&M stuff, using whips, handcuffs, gags and all that kind of kinky paraphernalia.

I've never been one to disappoint her – she's the love of my life, after all – so we went and bought a load of the gear and tried it one Saturday night.

She fastened my hands and feet to the bed and then set about whipping my bare arse with a bendy cane.

However, far from being enjoyable, it hurt like hell and I was glad when it was over.

I told her I didn't like it and that I'd rather not try it again.

But she just said, "Tough" and insisted on doing it EVERY NIGHT for the next week.

What can I do, short of leaving her?

ED, Merseyside

Bexi says…

BEFORE you next get into bed, explain your feelings and tell her how much you used to enjoy sex before she turned into a bully.

I got his cock but never got to rock

Dear Bexi,

I'M a 26-year-old single girl and recently I went to a bar where I met a man who said he was a singer in a top band.

I didn't recognise him but he was gorgeous and charming.

We chatted for most of the evening and then later he asked if I'd like to go back to his flat.

About 10 minutes later we were in his lounge where there were lots of photos of him with famous musicians and he told me he had worked with all of them over the years.

He poured some wine and we chatted for a while and then he kissed me roughly and asked if I wanted to sleep with him.

I never do that on the first date so I politely refused. We had some more wine and he asked if I'd ever fancied doing some singing.

It's been my life-long dream of mine so when I said yes he said he could get me an audition as a backing singer. I was over the moon and after some more cuddling I felt elated and comfortable did it.

He massaged my boobs and nipples, making them rock hard. I had the same result with his manhood, gently rolling his balls and pulling on his cock till he was hugely erect. He slipped his massive cock into me and brought me to two great orgasms.

The next morning he rang a taxi for me. I'd given him my number and he promised to ring me about the audition later.

As you've probably guessed, I never heard from him again. It turns out he' a van driver who hangs around outside concerts getting his photo taken with the real stars.

Have I been foolish?

NK, Manchester

Bexi says…

I THINK you've been duped by a clever conman. Just put it down to experience and remember how good the sex was.

AGONY QUICKIES

Dear Bexi,

I HAVE never given a thought to having sex with a woman other than my wife and I haven't as much as kissed someone else since we tied the knot 10 years ago.

At parties when my mates are all copping off I just sup the ale and keep my hands to myself and avoid flirty situations.

But the barmaid at my local looks just like you and I'm very tempted as she seems to like me.

What should I do?

RF, Hants

Bexi says…

I'M flattered but you've been faithful so far, so don't spoil your record

Dear Bexi,

I'M considering leaving my hubby because I'm going short of sex.

His pecker hasn't risen for months and even when he does manage a stiffy, I can't get him to give me a good seeing-to.

BG, Surrey

Bexi says…

GET him some little blue pills or find a new man.

NINA LEIGH

CARPET fitter Ian Summers emailed us asking for a saucy snap of glamour babe Nina Leigh.

The 45-year-old, from Manchester, said that 25-year-old Nina is his favourite Sport girl.

And he said he'd love to get naughty with the brunette beauty.

Nina, from Walton-on-Thames, Surrey, looks great in her navy and white undies but it's her 34E norks which Ian's interested in.

He said: "She's mesmerising. I moan about laying carpets for folk, but Nina is one thing I'd love to lay. Oh yes!"

Haven't seen your favourite model for a while? Drop us a note and we'll put her in the paper! Email request@ sundaysport.co.uk

GINA BROWN

LONDON train driver Len Sharp requested a topless picture of gorgeous Gina Brown.

Len, 37, from Dulwich, loves the 'girl-next-door' look of 25-year-old Gina who hails from Southend, Essex.

He told us: "I've always fancied Gina and often look at her pictures while navigating the tube tunnels – she's a real light in my day.

"I have loads of buttons to press and concentrate on throughout the day but I dream of getting my hands on Gina's 32C hooters."

LISA MARIE NEWMAN

CHIP shop owner Brian Howard is bowled over by pretty Lisa Marie Newman.

The 53-year-old, from Fleetwood, likes the girls up North but reckons 27-year-old Lisa Marie is the apple of his eye.

Lisa Marie, from Salisbury, Wilts, looks sensational with her pert 34Ds on full display in this shot.

Brian said: "Girls up here are proper fit and I love a Northern lass.

"But Lisa Marie is a diamond and those tits are magic."

SPEARMINT RHINO BABE OF THE WEEK

Lexi

SPEARMINT RHINO GENTLEMEN'S CLUBS

By JESS GALLEY
jess@sundaysport.co.uk

BRUNETTE scorcher Lexi has stripped off for this exclusive topless photo shoot after being named as our Spearmint Rhino Girl of the Week.

The 25-year-old, from north London, might be off the market – sorry fellas – but she confessed all about what gets her going between the sheets.

Lexi bared her 32DDs for these sexy boobs-out photos and told us she feels honoured to have been hand-picked to strip off for the Midweek Sport.

She said: “I’m honoured to be Spearmint Rhino’s Girl of the Week – even though I was a bit nervous before the shoot.

Humour

“But I have the full support of my family, the most amazing friends and a boyfriend with eyes that could take your mind off almost anything!

“I love guys who have a good sense of humour and can make me laugh.

“But if they just talk a good talk and don’t have the substance to back it up, then I’m not interested!”

Spearmint Rhino has a number of gentleman’s clubs around the world which boast the most beautiful dancers.

If you can’t make it to a club, you can find Spearmint Rhino girls at boxing and Mixed Martial Arts (MMA) fights around the country, or at the British Superbike Rounds.

THE BOOKIE BASHER

LET MICK LIVESEY PUT YOU ON TO A SPORTS BETTING WINNER!

KEY MAN: Paul Pogba

TAKE STOCK WITH REDS

ON the last day of the Premier League season we dished out more pain to those bookies.

Coutinho to score and Liverpool to win at 6/5 was the NAP selection and the NB was Chelsea to score four or more goals at 23/10.

We have battered them all season including the successful ante-post bets on Chelsea at 6/1 and Newcastle at 7/4.

The good news is we are not quite finished yet with the beautiful game, I'm advising we go massive on Man Utd in the Europa Cup final tonight against Ajax.

Jose Mourinho has lost some of his swagger and his press conferences have become quite boring. What he's not lost though is the ability to win big matches, when the chips are down, he will find a way to win a football match through his tactics.

It may not always be pretty, but over the years it's been mighty effective.

He's won 11 from 13, cup finals he's been involved in, that is 84.6% and is a number we would be foolish to ignore.

Energy

Ajax have been superb at home, but I tell you what they've been average away. It will be interesting to see how this young team cope playing at the neutral venue in Stockholm.

When you look through the two teams, you must say United have the edge when it comes to experience, that could prove to be vital and surely gives them the edge.

This Ajax team is full of energy, but do you see them having the brains to see off United?

I just don't see how Peter Bosz can prepare them for what lies ahead. There is not a single player who's been involved in a big match on this scale before.

The pressure is on Jose and his team, failure to lift the cup would cost them 50m, but more importantly it would make improving the squad even more difficult.

Top players want to play in the Champions League, those that will come, will mean you must pay over the odds to secure their services. This game is huge, but it is one they will win.

Pogba is the key man for Man United, he can grab this game by the scruff of the neck and show the world what he is about.

In truth, he's not been brilliant this season, but now is the time he needs to stand up and be counted. The 5/1 on offer for Pogba to score and United to win is appealing.

Likewise, Wayne Rooney, he never gets the plaudits he deserves, you can grab yourself 11/4 for Rooney to score and United to win.

There is mounting speculation about Rooney's future at the club, what a way to sign off that would be, if this ends up being his last match for the club.

The safest punt though could be United to win at 17/20.

HORSE RACING

SO MI DAR CAN HIT TOP NOTE FOR LLOYD-WEBBER

Tomorrow if you only have one bet, stick it on the horses and punt So Mi Dar to win the Brigadier Gerard Stakes at Sandown (7.35).

This Dubawi filly is different class to this opposition and if she is anywhere near 100%, she will take the world of beating.

I don't believe Gosden would be running her, unless he felt she could do herself justice.

It won't change our lives, she is a best price 6/4, but come the start I'd not be surprised to see her trading at around an evens shot.

I just can't build a case for the rest, on all known form the £36,862 first-prize is going to be banked by Lord Lloyd-Webber.

In the Henry II Stakes at 7.05, I like the look of Higher Power each-way at 8/1.

Fanshawe's five-year-old is the model of consistency, I expect him to make the frame once more.

I can understand why Big Orange (left) is the strong 2/1 favourite, there will be plenty of Orange fans cheering him on, but I'd rather take 8/1 about the consistent Power.

GREYHOUND RACING

DOLLY CAN LAND US THE LOLLY

Tonight at Doncaster get on T2 Burnfoot Dolly at 8.14.

She should make every post a winning one and land us a nice bet.

There is not too much in the race, Soars Above comes from the powerful Draper kennel, but disappointed last time at odds-on and he is likely to be short again here.

That excites me, because we should get a decent price about Dolly.

THE WINNING POST

Silence Sounds great

By BEN MORGAN

SOUND AND SILENCE (NAP) looks to be one of Charlie Appleby's sharpest two year olds this year and can prove that on Thursday at Sandown.

He showed plenty of speed on his debut run where he beat some fancied types and the bare form of that race looks pretty strong.

His trainer has spoke of him highly and he looks like he could be aimed towards Royal Ascot after this, so should really be up to winning an event like this where his competition doesn't look overly strong.

Unbeaten

I believe he could be one of the better two year olds this side of the Irish Sea and he shouldn't be missed tomorrow.

I, along with John Gosden, will be hoping SO MI DAR can fulfill her full potential this year after her unbeaten run came to a rather unfortunate end. The lack of pace put pay to her chances in her last run at Chantilly in October last year and Gosden's filly ended up in the wrong position when it turned into a sprint.

She still ran on gamely and wasn't beaten far which shows her really willing attitude.

She is likely to be a short priced favourite tomorrow but she should dispatch of inferior rivals despite not being fully fit.

Hugo Palmer must have gutted to have missed the Guineas with his scopey colt ESCOBAR.

Reports at home suggested he wasn't sparkling at home at the time and Palmer probably did the right thing not running him in either of the English or French version of the classic.

If you can forgive him for his last run where he scoped dirty then he looked one of the better two-year-olds of last year and if he has trained on into this year then he will be some force to reckon with.

A slight concern is the form of Palmer's stable as some fancied runners have ran nowhere near their best in the past fortnight but given how good this colt could be I am willing to take a chance on his welfare.

I will give THE WARRIOR one last chance at tricky Goodwood tomorrow, where he always seems to run admirably.

Fair

He is definitely handicapped well enough to win an event like this and his recent runs have been full of promise.

At 8/1 he looks a fair price and I'm hoping for a bold showing.

Gosden star has Crack at Derby glory

HORSE RACING

TRAINER John Gosden is happy with Derby hope Cracksman after a blistering gallop at Epsom.

The joint-favourite looked in prime form in his last big preparation run for next month's big race.

Gosden knows what he is doing, having given 2015 winner Golden Horn the same preparation as Cracksman.

Frankie Dettori was on board and he's expected to take the ride in the Derby.

PRIMED: John Gosden

Gosden said: "He ran round here in April and he ran well. He got pocketed in and he picked up nicely against a horse that was fit and streetwise and he's come on a lot for it.

"I didn't fancy running him 16 days out in the Dante in testing conditions.

"The result was positive from our point of view, though I was happy with how this morning went and he's full of himself down at the stables.

"I think the mile and half will be right up his alley and we didn't supplement him for fun in April."

Frankie was also pleased with the feel the son of Frankel gave him.

He said: "He was good, he did a bit of routine stuff, just like we did with Golden Horn, he just started at the mile and we just went round Tattenham Corner and then pulled up at the furlong marker. If I passed the winning post at snail's pace, it was because I was already pulling up."

Frankel could have a big say with Eminent looking more suited to the Derby trip than the mile of the 2,000 Guineas.

Trainer Martyn Meade was happy with the way he worked: "I was absolutely thrilled, he did exactly what we wanted him to do."

Kvitova back at Wimbers after knifing

TENNIS

PETRA Kvitova is "on track" to play at Wimbledon just seven months after being knifed by a burglar.

It was feared that the double SW19 champion would never play again after suffering a serious hand injury.

She could even be back in time for next week's French Open — with a decision being made in the next couple of days.

RECOVERY: Kvitova

Kvitova underwent a a series of operations in December to repair nerve damage in her hand — the one she holds the racquet with.

The 26-year-old won Wimbledon in 2011 and 2014 and is expected to be on the list of players that will be released later today.

There are fears that top player Caroline Wozniacki will not be fit for the French Open.

She has been forced to withdraw from the Strasbourg international less than a week before the big action kicks off at Roland Garros.

The Dane retired from her match against American Shelby Rogers with back trouble.

The world number 12 said: "I felt it kind of in the middle of the first set.

"At this point, I think it's important for me to try and get ready for the French Open and be 100% for that."

Eugenie Bouchard's fans will be hoping the Canadian stunner gets over the ankle knock that forced her out of the Nuernberger Cup.

She said: "It's a great tournament for me with lots of great memories. I'm sorry I cannot see the fans this year and hope to be back next year."

ONE-DAY CRICKET INTERNATIONAL:

PRESSURE: Stokes doesn't know how Dhoni (inset) handles it

By NED TRUEMAN

BEN Stokes insists it's good to be home and away from the hysteria of the Indian Premier League.

The all-rounder is a key part of the England side to take on South Africa at Headingley today.

The Durham man is happy to be back in the 50-over format — and back in Blighty.

He has just come back from the subcontinent where cricketers are treated like boy band members and mobbed wherever they go.

Stokes said: "You can walk across the road here and get a coffee without 'selfie, selfie, selfie' and this kind of stuff.

"Cricket is a religion out in India and it's completely different to England. They go mad for it.

"They'll queue up for five hours just to get a seat just to see MS Dhoni walk out onto the pitch.

"It's an amazing place to experience but I just think it's different wherever you go in the world and India is obviously the extreme of it."

And Stokes has hit back at critics of England's training camp in Spain.

It meant he wasn't allowed to take part in the IPL finals despite there being a gap between that and the South Africa game.

Stokes insists that nobody was having a holiday, adding: "There was a lot of criticism about that purely because it was in Spain.

Work

"If we'd done something like that in England I don't think there would have been a bean said at all.

"We did a lot of fitness work, fielding work and a lot of team bonding stuff whether that be golf in the morning, quiz at night time.

"I think the whole thing got blown up because it was in Spain and obviously you associate Spain with sunshine, beer, parties and not hard work. But we did a lot of hard work.

"There was a lot of stuff around saying I should have been able to play the IPL final but it was agreed from the start that was as long as I was going to stay regardless of what happened.

"Playing for England is always the main priority in decisions like that, it was made very clear at the start of the tournament."

The Three Lions will be led by Eoin Morgan, who is looking for his side to improve their record in the 50-over game.

The skipper is surprised to see England head the betting for next month's Champions Trophy and thinks big improvement is needed.

Different

He said: "We're not the best team in the world but we have all bases covered.

"We bat all the way down to 11. We have a left-arm bowler, quick bowlers, guys who are reliable, a leg-spinner and off-spinner.

"I've never played in a side with such variety in the batting, with guys open-minded about doing different things.

"We're all building towards the World Cup — but these guys need more games to be able to go into that tournament and say we're favourites.

"We don't have as much experience as other sides.

We might play only about 40 one-day internationals between the Champions Trophy and the World Cup. It sounds a lot but it's not. Other teams will play far more.

"So we need a squad of more than 20 players who we can pick from.

That is where we are trying to get to but we're still a strong side and contenders for the Champions Trophy. It's cool that the bookies have us favourites.

Deserved

"What happened in 2013 and 2016 also teaches us that sport is unpredictable. It's beautiful.

"That is why people are intrigued by it and why they love it. But we must remember that we won't deserve to win anything until we're over the line."

Lions set for tough nights out clubbing

RUGBY UNION

WARREN Gatland is poised for a massive challenge for his Lions in New Zealand.

He points to the quality of the club sides in the country that gives the All Blacks massive strength in depth to choose from.

The Lions will take on the biggest club sides in midweek games around the Test matches. And Gatland doesn't think they will be much easier than the big games.

The tourists take on the Blues, Crusaders, Highlanders, Chiefs and Hurricanes on top of the three Tests against the All Blacks.

Gatland said: "They are obviously playing very well, there is some outstanding rugby being played by the New Zealand teams in the way that they are dominating the competition.

"We know how difficult they will be as opposition.

Change

"A lot of those teams are going through transition in terms of the way they are defending.

"Teams are coming up particularly hard off the line, so we are just watching that pretty closely in terms of that transition at the moment.

"The way New Zealand sides have traditionally defended, there's a bit of a change in the way that they are doing that, but there is no doubt that they are playing some outstanding rugby and they are going to be tough prospects for us leading into the Test matches."

BIG LOSS: Vunipola

CALL-UP: James Haskell

Gatland is reeling from the loss of key man Billy Vunipola from his squad with James Haskell coming in.

For the coach, that's just par for the course with a big touring partyt.

He added: "I don't think it will make too much difference. We are going to lose some players along the way, and they are in the same boat as well.

"They've got a few big games to play over the next few weekends before the Test series starts, and fingers crossed, we don't pick up any injuries in the finals this weekend.

"It's a matter of doing things on the training pitch, and with the work that they have been doing in terms of learning the calls, getting themselves in front of the computers to learn everything and then doing walk-throughs and helping each other.

"So it's been a couple of really worthwhile weeks so far that we've been together."

WE WON'T PUT OUT SIGGY

Swansea ready to fight for Gylfi

SWANSEA have told Everton and Spurs to forget about signing Gylfi Sigurdsson.

By MARK NAYLOR

The Iceland playmaker has been linked with a move away from south Wales but owner Steve Kaplan insists the club will keep ALL their star players this summer.

That could mean Chelsea will be thwarted in their hopes of signing striker Fernando Llorente after his strong performances through this campaign.

Everton are thought to have tabled a £25million bid for Sigurdsson. While some downmarket newspapers reported that the offer had been accepted, that is not true.

Swansea only just managed to beat the drop but feel they have a bright future under boss Paul Clement.

Keeping Sigurdsson is a key part of their future plans.

Kaplan said: "We all know how important Gylfi is, just as he knows how much he's valued and loved here.

"There's been interest in him before — there were some pretty big enquiries about him last summer and in the January window — but we didn't want to sell him then and we don't want to sell him now."

ADMIRER: Koeman

There's no secret that Toffees boss Ronald Koeman sees Siggy as the perfect replacement for Ross Barkley who looks set for the exit after refusing to sign a new contract.

Spurs would also like to have him back with their gaffer Mauricio Pochettino a big admirer of the Iceland star.

He sees him fitting perfectly into the fluid system they play in north London.

"There has been no contact between Swansea City and Everton," said a club spokesman.

"As far as the owners, the chairman and the manager are concerned, they want to keep Swansea City's best players."

Cash

Sigurdsson himself says he's happy in south Wales and has no intention of leaving the Liberty Stadium.

He has just picked up the club's player of the year award for the second season on the bounce.

He is adamant that he won't walk out on the Swans — unless the club want to cash in on him.

He said: "I signed a new contract in the summer and I've got three years left.

"So it's down to the club if they want to sell me.

"But I was very happy when I was on loan here and then again in the last three years.

"I'm not trying to leave, I'm not desperate to go or anything."

SMITH SNIFFS OUT CATS BOSS

By PAUL THOMAS

WALTER Smith has been brought in to advise Sunderland on their next gaffer.

The former Rangers boss has been brought in by Sunderland chief executive Martin Bain.

He will draw up a shortlist of candidates to follow David Moyes who resigned on Monday.

And it could be Nigel Pearson — who is being tipped for the Black Cats hotseat.

Other names in the frame include Sunderland legend Kevin Phillips while the bookies have put former gaffer Roy Keane in as third favourite.

Pearson has a track record of getting Leicester out of the Championship on a tight budget and laying the foundations for their title win.

As well as being a club legend, Phillips has reportedly done well as part of Gary Rowett's backroom staff at Derby County.

Moyes had said that he would stay at the club and walks away without any severance deal, which has cost him around £3million.

Sunderland appear to have very little money for new signings this summer and have debts totalling more than £100m before they drop out of the Premier League. They will get around £40m as their parachute payment but that could be swallowed up by the debt.

It means star assets like goalie Jordan Pickford look likely to sold, which won't help the new boss.

Former Sunderland gaffer Sam Allardyce is surprised that Moyes walked.

He added: "I am surprised. For David it is disappointing, I am sure.

"Moving away from one club is no disgrace any more, it happens so often. Whether you deserve it or don't, it just happens. But then you move to the next job and look at the resources.

"If you think you can get some success take the job, if you can't don't bother going back in because it's too difficult."

Ex-England boss Roy Hodgson thinks Moyes will be back. He said: "David is an excellent manager.

"Unfortunately sometimes when you take on difficult jobs like Sunderland the jobs are perhaps stacked against you.

"I'm very sad for him and very sad for the club but David will certainly bounce back because managers and coaches of his quality do not grow on trees."

TOWN BOSS: Kewell

Kewell creeps into Crawley

HARRY Kewell has taken over as Crawley Town boss.

The former Leeds and Liverpool winger has just left Watford, where he was in charge of the under-23 side.

The 38-year-old will have former Northern Ireland striker Warren Feeney as his assistant.

"During his interview Harry showed us great passion — that's needed to make this team move onwards," said Crawley director of football Selim Gaygusuz.

Kewell is hoping to take giant strides with a side that finished 19th in League Two last season.

They won just one of their last 14 games so there is plenty of work to do.

He said of his coaching ambitions: "I'm a big dreamer.

"You might as well go to the top. You want to dream big, you dream big.

"I'll just keep working and working until I get my opportunity."

Kewell was the first Aussie to play in a Champions League final when Liverpool beat AC Milan in Istanbul.

He was PFA young player of the year in 2000.

Silva off to Porto

HULL boss Marco Silva looks set to take over at Porto.

He has had successful talks with the Portuguese side about a return to his homeland.

Silva only had a contract with the Tigers until the end of the season.

Despite an upturn in results, they were still relegated from the Premier League.

The role is vacant at the Estadio do Dragao and Silva has a big reputation in his home country.

He had plenty of success in charge of Sporting Lisbon and backed that up at Olympiakos.

He was linked with both Watford and Southampton but prefers the challenge of Porto — who can also offer European football.

They finished second to Benfica last term so are in the Champions League. But that was enough to get Nuno sacked.

United can get full set of Euro trophies

Reds to take it 3-1 at 16s

TWO sides with a European pedigree contest the Europa League final although after events in Manchester on Monday football again becomes a bit of an irrelevancy.

That said I think it will be a second major trophy of the season for Manchester United in the ironically but beautifully named Friends Arena and I hope it will be a welcome return to the Champions League next term for the Red Devils.

Jose Mourinho has been criticised in some quarters for prioritising the competition over the Premier League in recent weeks, but the win over Palace on the final day of the season shows that United's future is in safe hands.

Sunday's debutant Angel Gomes is held in the very highest regard at Old Trafford -it made me feel even older to read he was the first player born after the millennium to play in the Premier League and United's youngest debutant since the legendary Duncan Edwards. Good luck to him – they are very large boots to fill.

This will be Ajax's 56th game of the season and United's 64th if you count their win in the Community Shield so both sides have certainly had long and demanding campaigns, but I expect to see goals this evening with United shading it.

Marcus Rashford has scored or assisted United's last four goals in the Europa Cup (2 goals, 2 assists) and he should have his chances midweek given Ajax have conceded seven goals in their last three Europa League ties.

The last two Europa League Finals have seen nine goals scored.

I expect to see both sides score in the Swedish capital tonight but United are better organised, stronger defensively and Jose Mourinho has won all his six previous games as a manager against Ajax – a magnificent seventh awaits in Stockholm.

I fancy a 3-1 United win, which is priced at 16/1 with BetVictor.

★ The first big game of the cricket season this afternoon with the first of three ODI's between England and South Africa at Headingley.

These are two potential winners of the ICC Champions Trophy, which begins with hosts England entertaining Bangladesh at the Oval next Thursday.

Eoin Morgan's side are marginal favourites to win in Leeds later today with BetVictor betting 8/11 England and 11/10 AB de Villier's side.

Hashim Amla was excellent in the recent IPL competition and at 10/3 he is the recommendation for top South African batsman with Ben Stokes looking overpriced at 8/1 to be top bat for England.

Home court advantage could be the decider, but with the weather set fair, it promises to be a wonderful curtain-raiser to what should be a great summer of international cricket.

★ At Southwell this evening (jumps) I am sweet on the chances of Sonneofpresenting (6.20) who was pulled out of a recent engagement on account of the soft ground.

No such worries this evening and I hope he can go close in a valuable and competitive handicap chase.

I'm looking forward to the hurdles debut of Irish Roe (7.20) who won her first three starts in bumpers and was only beaten 10 lengths at Aintree in their Grade 2 event at the National meeting last time.

Defoe pockets £6.7m a year from Cherries

JERMAIN Defoe will be paid £130,000 a week to sign for Bournemouth.

The veteran will also get a THREE-YEAR deal that will take him to his 37th birthday.

Cherries boss Eddie Howe has swooped on the England international because he can move from Sunderland on a free after their relegation.

Defoe still managed to score 15 goals in a terrible season for the Black Cats. He will be 35 just after the new campaign kicks off — but that's no problem for Bournemouth who are looking to add goals.

Defoe had a loan spell at Dean Court 17 years ago when the Cherries were a League One side.

He could yet be joined by John Terry as Eddie Howe looks to build his own Dad's Army.

They can offer the departing Chelsea captain the same money as Defoe for a 12-month contract.

Terry will have more lucrative offers from places like China but he may prefer to stay closer to home.

Bournemouth defender Steve Cook says signing Defoe and being linked with Terry shows just how far the club has come.

He said: "The club is in a great position to attract the best players in the world.

"Bournemouth, as a place, can attract whoever because it is a lovely place to live. The club is growing and one thing which will work in our favour is that, hopefully, in years to come we will see a bigger stadium.

"I'm sure the project of this club and its stature will attract even better players.

"We have a great team and a great bunch of lads. I'm sure the manager will have his targets to fit in with our group."

MASSIVE DEAL: Defoe

Yorkshire duo spend brass on managers

TWO Yorkshire giants are set to offer their managers new deals.

Sheffield Wednesday want Carlos Carvalhal to stay on despite them falling short in the Championship play-offs.

And a few miles up the road at Leeds, gaffer Garry Monk will be offered a new contract.

Caralhal's deal was due to run out this summer but he will be leading the Owls when the new season kicks off in August.

He has guided them to the play-offs in the past two seasons and saw his side knocked out on penalties by Huddersfield last week.

The 51-year-old guided Wednesday to fourth spot despite many other clubs in the division spending a lot more money.

Leeds are looking to keep Monk in the face of competition from Middlesbrough.

The relegated Teessiders are in the running for the former Swansea boss.

But he is set to be offered a longer contract as Leeds have been taken over by new owners.

Monk has had talks with new chief Andrea Radrizzani who has taken control of the club from fellow Italian Massimo Cellino.

Some bookies had the Leeds gaffer odds-on to take over from Aitor Karanka at the Riverside.

He is the first choice of Boro chairman Steve Gibson and Monk may yet make the move.

But Leeds are bringing in a new structure at the top of the club and should have money to spend this summer.

That should be enough to persuade Monk to stay.

IN DEMAND: Monk

Monte Carlo or bust for Foxes chief

CRAIG Shakespeare is in talks with club owners to stay as permanent Leicester boss.

It's a hard life for unemployed football managers as he's been taken to Nice to open negotiations before watching this weekend's Monaco Grand Prix.

The 53-year-old took over the Foxes after Claudio Ranieri was given the bullet with the defending champions staring at relegation.

He pulled them out of that mess and back into midtable thanks to notable wins, including a comfortable one against Liverpool.

GRAND PRIX: Shakespeare

Shakespeare's contract ran out at the end of the season and he looks pretty certain to be kept on by the club's Thai owners.

That said, he could be dropped back into the assistant manager role he had before Ranieri went — his contract for that job hasn't run out.

Summer

Shakespeare said: "It's obviously my time to listen and to see what happens.

"Of course I've got my own ideas of how I'd like to do things and implement things and how I think we can go forward.

"But it's a time to listen and see what the owners decide."

Leicester have some big plans for the summer, which include an audacious bid for Manchester City striker Kelechi Iheanacho.

The youngster has slipped a peg down the pecking order at the Etihad thanks to the arrival of Gabriel Jesus.

There is interest from Borussia Dortmund too and they might be more of a draw being a Champions League club.

Iheanacho has scored one goal for every 96 minutes he's been on the pitch for City — but he's not likely to be a regular starter next term if Sergio Aguero stays.

Downing has big downer on Boro flops

STEWART Downing has lifted the lid on Middlesbrough's dressing room in-fighting.

The Teessiders crashed to relegation and the 32-year suggests a few Boro players won't be that bothered about it.

Interim coach struggled to pick up the pieces after Aitor Karanka was sacked and they went down with a whimper.

Downing wants to stay and fight his way out of the Championship — and only wants fully committed players to stay at the club.

HARD TIMES: Downing

He said: "Where we'll be competing next season is a difficult league — maybe it's getting harder each season — and you have to fight and scrap for everything.

"But we have a good core here and I'm sure that when we start next season, we'll have everyone in that changing room who wants to be here.

"The manager has done ever so well with the stuff he's had to deal with.

"The fans don't see that, but there's been a lot and issues that needed addressing.

"This wasn't his team and probably not the way he wanted to play.

"Did some of some of them want to be here? Probably not. Whatever the chairman decides, we'll be right behind him. This isn't about anything other than this football club and our determination to get it back where we think it belongs.

"I'm sure there will be changes next season — there has to be if we are to get promoted. We can't carry passengers.

I'm confident we can pull this round. There is a core of players who are a good group."

IT'S THE EUROPA LEAGUE FINAL:

VICTIMS ARE IN ALL OUR HEARTS

Jose's emotional message as United head for final

By JOHN ANTHONY

MANCHESTER United boss Jose Mourinho issued a heartfelt message as the Reds head to Stockholm for tonight's Europa League final.

He paid tributes to the victims of the terror attack in the city after cancelling the pre-match press conference as a mark of respect.

He said: "We are all very sad about the tragic events, we cannot take out of our minds the hearts the families and the victims.

"We have a job to do and we fly to Sweden to do that job. It is a pity we cannot fly with the happiness we always have before a big game.

"I know, even during my short time here, the people of Manchester will pull together as one."

Wayne Rooney led the United players in a minute's silence during their final training session before the match.

As Mourinho said, it is a big game for the club as not only does it bring a trophy but also the bigger prize of a place in the Champions League groups.

The Reds head to Sweden with one major hole in the team — Zlatan Ibrahimovic.

He would have relished the chance to play in a European final on home soil.

Help

He's so popular there that a statue of him is being built at the Friends Arena, where the final is being played.

The 35-year-old has been out injured since damaging knee ligaments in the quarter-finals and has already been under the knife.

While he cannot play against Ajax, Zlatan has travelled with the squad.

Accoring to Ander Herrera, it will be a big help just to have him in the dressing room.

The Spaniard said: "He is with us, he is supporting us.

"I think he is very good. He is optimistic. He is 100 per cent sure he will be back because he cannot stop winning. He cannot stop scoring. For sure he will be back at the best.

"I always say this is a team sport, we are a team.

"The reason we have won two titles this season is because everyone has been there, working, helping. This final is for everyone.

"Of course 11 players will be on the pitch but everyone is ready to help and push for their team-mates.

"So, if we win it, it will be for everyone. Everyone has been part of this.

Outside

"Zlatan and Ash Young- have very good experience. We need everyone.

"When you want to win a European trophy and you want to make a good season, it is not only on the pitch, you need help from the outside.

Zlatan is here to help, Ash is also here to help. We are a team who is together. Everyone is important."

Herrera has experience of the Europa League final and is looking for a very different outcome to five years ago when his Athletic Bilbao team was beaten by Atletico Madrid.

He added: "I have played in the final and it was very disappointing when Atletico Madrid beat us when I was with Athletic Bilbao.

"Now I have the chance to win it. For the club, it is a massive competition right now.

"It is one game, one trophy. That is what will be in my mind.

"We are going to play for one European trophy that this club has never won. We can bring back a European title for the club which is very important.

"That is what this club is about."

Desperate

United's Timothy Fosu-Mensah is looking forward to taking on his former club tonight.

The 19-year-old left the Ajax academy for Old Trafford three years ago.

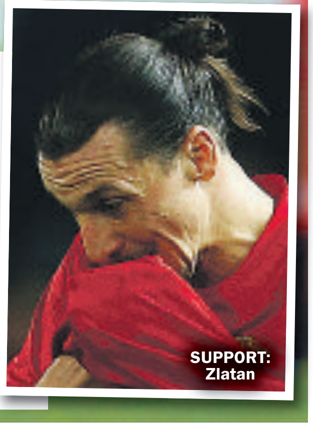
He has played 11 times this season and is desperate to figure. The absence of Eric Bailly leaves a place open at the back for him.

Fosu-Mensah said: "It's my old team and it's a nice game, a Europa League final.

"It's a big game, and as a football player you want to be involved in big games like this and that's what my focus is on.

"I played there for eight years so it's definitely extra special.

"I know a couple of players and I speak to them. We have spoken, but not about the game."



SUPPORT: Zlatan

PRIZE: Europa trophy

Security boosted for both finals

UEFA are beefing up security around the Friends Arena in Stockholm — but say there is no specific intelligence about an attack.

It's a similar story at Wembley where there will be extra police on duty for Saturday's FA Cup final after the horrendous attack in Manchester.

Fans have been asked to allow extra time for checks ahead of both matches.

A UEFA spokesman said: "Our thoughts are with the victims and the families of those affected.

"There is currently no specific intelligence which might suggest that any of the UEFA Europa League final activities in Stockholm may be the target of attacks.

"UEFA has been closely working with local authorities and the Swedish FA for many months and the terrorist risk had been taken into account since the very beginning of the project.

"Furthermore, a number of additional security measures were implemented following the attacks in Stockholm last April.

"Due to the tight security arrangements, UEFA urges fans to arrive at the stadium as early as possible, as detailed checks will be made at the entrances, resulting in potential delays in accessing the stadium."

Ajax miss stoppers

AJAX are without two key defenders for tonight's big match against Manchester United.

Nick Viergever is suspended and Daley Sinkgraven is out with a knee injury.

Davy Klaassen will lead out the Dutchman and there's a familiar face up front in Chelsea loanee Bertrand Traore.

COME AND GET ME: Griezmann is keen on United switch

By JOHN ANTHONY

ANTOINE Griezmann has dropped the biggest hint yet that he'll sign for Man United.

The long-time Old Trafford target has stunned Spain by saying it's the right time to leave his beloved Atletico Madrid.

He'd already said there was a "six out of 10" chance he'd move to Old Trafford — well make that a 10 out of 10 now.

The 26-year-old revealed: "Today if I have to move, it will be no problem.

"It may be England because it is the trend, Germany, China and the United States. I'm ready to go."

The lack of Champions League success is frustrating the Frenchman so it's important that United win the Europa League to qualify for next year's competiton.

Griezmann added: "With Atletico have had a final and a semi final of the Champions League, we're close, but we lack something.

"Everyone knows I love football to win trophies. I want success."

Stand by for United triggering his £85million release clause.
